California Ranch News

That olives do well in the Imperial Valley is one of the agricultural features of this area not generally known, but a carload of ripe olives recently left Brawley consigned to San Diego. Orchards apparently do well in this section, although no heavy plantings have yet been made.

Prospects are that the greater number of California cotton farmers will this year make a satisfactory return from their labors, as contrasted with a loss in some cases, and a bare profit in practically all others, last season, says the market and field report for October just issued by the agricultural department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

A heavy demand for California pears of the Bartlett, Hardy and Clarigeau varieties has developed in European markets, according to word received by the State Department of Agriculture from Federal authorities. The prices reported for California Hardys in Liverpool range around $7 a box, while Bartletts are bringing from $5.35 to $5.84.

Harvest of the 1927 crop of California naval oranges will begin in the Oroville district shortly after November 1, if the present mild weather continues, the State Department of Agriculture announced last week. All citrus fruits are now covered by the standardization law, the announcement said, and fruit can not be picked for export until it has reached prescribed maturity standards.

Announcement is made by the Imperial Linen Products corporation of San Diego that a factory will soon be erected in that city for the manufacture of wall board, rope, twine and paint and varnish remover from wild hemp which grows profusely in the Imperial Valley. The factory, acoording to reports, will be ready for operation by the first of the year. Fieldmen are now busy contracting a hemp acreage.

The Holly Sugar corporation is seeking information concerning the growing of sugar beets in the Imperial Valley. Experiments have proven that beets grown here produce sufficient tonnage, but some doubt is expressed as to the per cent of sugar content to be obtained. Further experiments will be conducted, and it is thought likely that the Imperial Valley will have a sugar factory within a short time.

That the Newcastle fruit district, Placer County, experienced a better season in 1927 in spite of the short crop than on the record-breaking crop of 1926 is indicated by figures compiled by Charles Werner, manager of the Newcastle Fruit Growers' Association. Last year the association shipped 870 cars East and about eighty cars to canneries and Los Angeles. The 870 cars brought a gross of $1,177,000, or about $1,350 a car.

The compromise agreement which ended the cling peach war between canners and growers, with a sliding scale of prices on August 3 has netted the growers $22.50 per ton on a crop which proved larger than many of them expected. The total pack of clings or canning peaches in California this year was 10,839,681 cases, according to an announcement made by Preston McKinney, vice president and secretary of the Canners' League. The pack of 10,839,681 cases is 2,825,077 cases below that of last year. In Northern California the pack was 9,843,790 cases and in Southern California 985,981 cases. The pack of free peaches—not concerned in the agreement—totaled 320,812 cases, a decrease of 496,007 cases, as compared with last year.

A new era in California agriculture, brought about through the rapid development of commercial air service, is predicted by some of the vineyardists, citrus and deciduous fruit growers of the State. Recognizing the value of speed in placing their products on eastern markets, several growers during the past season made experimental shipments of peaches by established air express lines. The express rate seemed exorbitant at first, but returns from initial sales indicate that there are times when growers may be well compensated for shipping by air.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

Leasing activities continues to hold the interest of the oil companies in Kern county. Should terms of leases be carried out upward of 100 new wells would be drilled there within the next year. Land leased for oil exploitation lies in every part of Kern county, some of it forty miles from present production areas.

Allen Ensley McClanahan, 77, who died at his home in Berkeley last week, claimed the distinction of having been the youngest man to carry a musket in the Civil War. Born in 1850, he crossed the plains by ox team with his family in 1857 and enlisted at 14 in 1864 in Company I, 7th California Volunteer Infantry, being mustered out from Presidio, San Francisco.

California boasts 5,636 public educational institutions, exclusive of her universities, it was announced last week by the State Department of Education. The schools were classified as follows: Elementary schools, 4,125; kindergarten, 907; high schools, 466; teachers' colleges, 7; junior colleges, 10; junior high schools, 121.

One hundred deep-sea fishermen of San Diego united last week in a court action against the State Department of Agriculture and the State Fish Exchange, attacking the constitutionality of the law which empowers the State market director to regulate the price of fresh fish. The law permits the director to place an arbitrary limit on the price fishermen may ask for their catch. The price fixed in recent months is less than the cost of operating the fishing fleet, plaintiffs contend.

The joint legislative water investigation committee, headed by Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden of Tracy met at Sacramento last week, starting a tour of Northern California dam and reservoir sites. The committee, which is to report to the 1929 Legislature with recommendations as to water conservation and distribution plans, consists of four Senators and four Assemblymen.

Airplane passenger travel between San Francisco and Los Angeles has become so great that the Pacific Air Transport, which operates the coast air mail and passenger service, has been forced to put a new six passenger cabin plane on its southern run, it was announced last week. The new ship is an enclosed-cabin Fokker monoplane, powered with a Wright J-5 whirlwind motor—the same type as that Lindbergh uses.

With $59,000 in Modoc county funds made available last week, plans are being made for State-county co-operative work in providing more adequate highway facilities between Alturas, Modoc county, California, and Lakeview, Lake county, Oregon. The program calls for construction work to the Oregon line, at New Pine Creek, connecting with new work being carried forward in Oregon.

Recommendations that steps be taken to make the Weimar Joint Sanatorium, Placer county, a State hospital for care of persons suffering from tuberculosis are contained in a report by the Sacramento county grand jury. The institution at Weimar is now supported by a group of Northern and Central California counties.

With 1,118 suicides reported in California last year the state board of health a few days ago declared that acts of self destruction have reached the point where attention must be paid to the causes of suicide. California's suicide rate for last year was 27.1 persons per 100,000 of population. San Diego led with a rate of 48.9 suicides per 100,000, while Sacramento was second with a rate of 42.1. Los Angeles reported 283 suicides in 1926, a rate of 37.9; San Francisco 199 or a rate of 35.1 and Oakland 61, or a rate of 23.4. The fact that California is a haven for invalids and migratory workers is regarded as one of the chief factors in swelling the number of suicides in the state.

There are 82,764 borrowers from building and loan associations in California at the present time, or an increase of 26 per cent, or 17,212 over 1926. This is shown in the annual report of George S. Walker, state building and loan commissioner, which has just been submitted to Governor C. C. Young. New real estate loans made so far this year numbered 30,922 or an increase of 3,018 or 10.8 per cent over the preceding year. A total of 11,185 loans were made for building purposes during the past year. More than 6,500 loans were for improving old structures. The average amount of each loan was $2,661

DRIVERS MUST HAVE LICENSES

An immediate check of the files of the division of motor vehicles to secure the names of motorists who are driving without an operator's card was ordered today by Chief Frank G. Snook.

This followed the discovery by the department that approximately 25 per cent of the drivers in the State are violating the law by driving without a license. Clerks in charge of the files estimated that 400,000 persons are without a license in the State.

Simultaneous with the order, Snook announced that a campaign wouuld be launched to compel such drivers to obey the law.

The division has an easy means of checking the list of violators since the file of names of persons to whom cards have been issued may be compared with the files showing registered owners. Both are kept in numerical order.

The new motor vehicle act requires that every applicant for a license, upon first applying, must submit to an examination as to his physical and mental fitness to drive.

Snook said no person hitherto driven without a license would be prosecuted, provided he shows a disposition to comply with the law by applying for his card at once.

"Persons who are without an operator's license should lose no time in getting one," Snook said.

"No person who can exercise reasonable control over an automobile or who has no serious physical defects has anything to fear from the examination. The examiners are instructed to extend every courtesy to applicants and to make allowances for stage fright and nervousness.

"To drive without an operator's card is to violate the law and lays the driver open to embarrassment and possible arrest.

"Our officers now have orders to ask every motorist for his license when stopping him for any reason. Lack of a license may mean that your trip will be de-layed or that you may be compelled to abandon it altogether.

"It is not our intention to harass the motorists but merely to see that they comply with the law. Do not blame the officer, therefore, when he demands your license. He is merely complying with his orders."

"Yes, we have some bananas" may be truthfully sung of Porterville. A bunch of this tropical fruit grown at the service station of Wood Whitridge at Mill and Hockett streets is attracting considerable attention at the Chamber of Commerce. The fruit is well matured and has a fine flavor, not having been ripened in the dark. The bananas are about six inches in length.

California's ban on Florida citrus fruits is for the protection of this State's citrus groves from serious insect and disease pests known to exist in the Everglades State, and is not enforced through fear of competition by the southern growers in the coast markets, G. H. Hecke, director of agriculture, declares in answer to criticisms of the quarantine.

The 1927 grape season in the Calistoga section, Napa County, is rapidly drawing to a close. Most of the black grapes have been sent to eastern markets, although several truck and carloads have been sold to San Francisco and other local commission men. There are still some white grapes left in the vineyards unsold, but growers are of the opinion that no trouble will be experienced in getting rid of them at fair prices. Up to the present time 190 carloads have been sent out from the local depot.

The sixtieth annual California Fruit Growers and Farmers' Convention has been tentatively scheduled for Stockton, November 17 and 18. State Agricultural Director George H. Hecke announces that the convention this year will be devoted almost exclusively to the marketing problem as one of the most important matters now confronting the American farmer.

Harvesting of Orange county's million-dollar pepper crop is still in full swing. Hundreds of workers are in the fields near Hunting Beach, Talbert, Garden Grove and in other sections of the county. The production of peppers is Orange county's largest truck industry. The harvest of the crop started in September and will be finished the latter part of this month.

KIWANIANS GIVE $90 TO SCOUTS

A genuine treat was given at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday when the high school orchestra under the direction of Mr. A. A. Thielke played several numbers that solicited much hearty applause and praise. This surprise was sprung by Principal D. H. Cramer who was chairman for the day.

Rev. Jos. Bennett told of the rapid growth of the newly organized Cub Scouts, Scouts and Sea Scouts, which will probably number 90 within a few days. He spoke of some needed gym equipment and thanked the club for its donation for this good work. At the suggestion of one member a large number of pledges of support were made bringing the Kiwanis backing up to $90.

In connection with the new scout den that will be used by the Lone Scouts, older School Scouts, as well as the above mentioned troups, Mr. Bennett stated that lumber and cement would be donated by Harold Morton, cement work by Mr. Swanson, and carpenter work by O. Strom.

Professor Buss of San Jose State College gave a very interesting talk on the geology of Santa Clara valley. Evidence proves that this part of California was under sea with the Mt. Hamilton and Santa Cruz ranges as volcanic islands which gradually arose and formed the valley between. These valleys were slowly filled by soil deposits from the mountains making this valley really a product of streams. Later a lake period was passed through as is shown in some districts. He stated that there is probably little oil in this valley because of the lack of diatomite deposits so common in oil regions. Paul Clark of San Jose, who has done much globe trotting will speak next Tuesday on "Egypt." Joseph Bennett, like Joseph of old Egypt, will be governor of the this fertile valley next week.

Campbell will have a representative delegation at the Kiwanis convention next week at Hollywood. Dean and Mrs. Chauncey Whiman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weisendanger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and Ed Merrill plan to see the movies, leaving here Wednesday.

STREET WORK DOIN'

Supervisor McKinnon and Roadmaster Ralph Gardner are subjects of a heap of complimentary comment on our streets these days because of their good work on our streets. Railroad avenue, Central and Second street have all been spread with Saratoga gravel which will soon make veritable paved streets. Ralph is doing himself proud on this work and other spots where a bit of do-it-now will mean a considerable saving later on. Joe and Ralph, we thank you.

Some of the finest figs in Southern California are produced on Catalina Island. This may surprise many people who regard Santa Catalina simply as a Pacific pleasure resort, established on a rocky desert island where fruit trees and vegetables cannot be expected to flourish. A great many things, however, can be, and are, grown on the island.

Recent hog sales in four San Joaquin Valley cities totaled $34,619.79, according to D. H. Bitner, manager of the California Farm Bureau Marketing Association, under whose direction the auctions were conducted. Eighteen hundred and seventeen animals were sold by 144 consignors. Summary of the transactions follows: At Hanford, October 13th, 672 hogs, thirty-nine consignors, $11,845.03; at Visalia, October 12th, 343 hogs, thirty consignors, $6,528.80; at Tulare, October 11th, 705 hogs, sixty-three consignors, $14,141.03; at Chowchilla, October 6th, ninety-seven hogs, twelve consignors, $2,009.

GRANGERS HEAR REPORT OF ANNUAL STATE SESSION AT STOCKTON

Community Chest Drive Support Urged

Tuesday evening Orchard City Grange listened to reports of the State Grange meetings at Stockton last week. Harry Barnes the master gave an interesting report which was supplimented by several other members.

The Stockton meeting was considered one of the best and most interesting State granges ever held. The attendance was very large, about 25 members going from Campbell.

Mr. Leory Anderson spoke especially on the debenture plan for farm aid which is being put worward by national master, L. J. Tabor of Ohio. This plan is quite fully discussed in the National Grange Monthly for September. After quite full discussion at the State grange it was voted down.

It is expected that the McKarey-Haugen farmers' relief bill, which was vetoed by the president at the last session of Congress will again come up for consideration at the next session. There are several other bills also to be presented and unless a compromise can be effected of the many interests it is doubtful if any of them will become a law. Under the head of cooperation, Mr. Copeland spoke in favor of the Community Chest drive which will be underway soon. He thought it was the easiest and best way to provide for the needy.

Mr. H. G. Keesling spoke on winter gardening saying that the use of vegetables for human food has increased in a most remarkable manner in the last 50 years, and that it is now time to plant beets, carrots, turnips and many other hardy vegetables for winter and spring use.

Mr. Keesling announced that the annual chrysanthemum show would be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Chamber of Commerce and is expected to be one of the finest of its kind ever held.

The masters report showed that all the main officers of the State grange were reelected, and the next State grange is to be held in Marysville during the fall of 1928.

The grangers were given a delightful ride through Lodi and the vineyard section where each was presented with a large basket of beautiful grapes.

NEW POWER HOUSE FOR WATER CO.

The Campbell Water Company is making another notable improvement in Campbell. The old pump and tool house at the water tanks on South Second street is being torn down and soon a new modern structure will be built.

The building will be of stucco, 32x36 feet, one story with concrete foundation and floor. A new pump hoist will be installed.

All electrical switches will be erected on racks into which the electricity will be piped through an underground conduit. Gray and green will be the colors of building and woodwork.

Contractor Andrew Johnson will have charge of the work and, weather permitting, it is planned to have the building completed early in December.

SPOOKY RECEPTION GIVEN FRESHMEN

The annual high school reception to the freshman was held at the gymnasium Friday evening in the form of a halloween masque party.

A pleasing feature of the program was the music furnished by the school orchestra under the direction of A. A. Thiekle.

Much fun was made of a mock wedding with two boys as the contracting parties. The Girls League put on an enjoyable drill stunt and a basket ball game was played between the Alumni and regular school heavyweights.

Miss Jenkins had charge of the program, T. A. Cutting, decorations and R. E. Noddin, refreshments.

NEW HI ANNEX

Work was begun Wednesday on the excavation for a three-room temporary housing structure for high school classes. The board is compelled to make provision for more classrooms and by the loss of the bond issue feel that this is the only method left.

They realize that it is a waste of money and sooner of later will be torn down but their hands are tied at present. They can nothing other than they are doing at this time.

CONSOLIDATED TUES.

Santa Clara County Consolidated will hold its next meeting on Tuesday at the Women's Club House in Santa Clara, with the Chamber of Commerce of that city as hosts. Among matters for discussion will be announcement of plans for the observance of Annual Prune Week.

With the aim of breaking, if possible, the barrier established by the silk industry in the eastern part of the United States and proving that silk can be manufactured successfully in California, the Industrial Department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is engaged in a study of the silk industry. L. O. Head, chairman of the committee, cited last week the successful operation of a small silk plant at Hermosa Beach and also pointed out the silk threading plant at Petaluma to show that silk establishments can be made to pay in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Holmes are home again after a ten-day vacation trip north of the bay.

MRS. JOS. HANCOCK TO SPEAK AT P.T.A.

A meeting of the Campbell Union Grammar School P.-T. A. will be held next Tuesday afternoon, November the 1st, in the kindergarten room of the local grammar school at 2:00 P. M.

The program committee has been forunate in securing Mrs. Joseph Hancock, of the county superintendent's office, to speak on the aims and purpoises of the Parent-Teachers' Association.

Mrs. Ralph Hyde will sing and Mrs. Clara B. Gould of the Health Center will speak on the Red Cross Seal drive.

In order to make it possible for mothers having young children to attend the meeting Camp Fire girls have volunteered to take care of the kiddies. As this is to be a permanent feature it is expected that the attendance will be largely increased from the ranks of those who have found it impossible to come in the past.

The committee on membership has been particularly active, and this meeting should show the results of their good work.

The usual good refreshments will be served and the meeting should prove both instructive and enjoyable.

A man's gratitude is always its best just before you do him a favor.

A SPLENDID RECORD

The second A. E. F. left in Paris a fine record for good behavior. Only six arrests were made during convention week and three cases were qiuckly disposed of by the judge advocate's court of the legion in conjunction with the French police. Fewer than a score of Legionnaires were treated by the Red Cross nurses for injuries of any seriousness. Of these two were cases of veterans who had quarreled about which American division had been the best during the war and they so damaged each other to prove their point that both men were taken to the hospital.

Equally as satisfactory is the fine impression the Second A. E. F. left in the hearts of the French people. The amity between the French and American peoples never has been better and the spirit is such that it will live long. As unofficial ambassadors, the legionnaires followed followed nobly on the wings of Lindbergh.

"The French people and the American people are different," said Georges Clemencau, the Grand Old Man of France to General Pershing and legion officers who visited him, "but our hearts beat in unison and that, I think, is the hope of the world."—Ex.

WE DON'T DRINK ENOUGH WATER

None of us drinks enough water. Excellent advice in this neglected branch of hygiene is given by Dr. Frank E. Barnes, Medical Director of the National City Bank of New York:

"If there were more heavy drinkers of water the health average of the human race would mount a good many points. Hunger strikers have demonstrated that a person can live for weeks without food. But it is doubtful if a thirst striker could hold out much over three days—that's why we don't have any of that class of protesters.

"The human body simply must have water, because three-fourths of it is composed of water. It is water that is fundamentally responsible for the conveyance of food to the tissues and for the eliminations of poisons from the body.

"Water keeps the blood supply normal. It dissolves the waste substances that accumulate in the body and conveys them to the skin and kidneys for elimination. If you do not drink enough water you seriously handicap the system getting rid of poisons and building up the tissues. Before you think of sprinkling the lawn be sure that you water yourself sufficiently. From eight to ten glasses a day, beginning with one or two before breakfast, will add to your length of life and make you feel stronger, younger and happier."—Ex.

WHY WOMEN SHOULDN'T SMOKE

Galli-Curci, the famous singer, says she doesn't smoke, and has this to say about women who do:

"There isn't one good excuse for smoking. It is harmful to the voice, discolors a woman's teeth and hands and is detrimental to her beauty."

If certain widely advertised testimonials of other singers are to be credited, there are cigarets that are a blessing to anybody's voice. Galli-Curci perhaps has not been reading such literature. Be that as it may, her practical threefold indictment is likely to influence many women and girls more than any mortal lecturer.

Women may keep right on smoking even if it is bad for the health and morals, as many reformers maintain. When it is shown to be detrimental to their charms, that is another matter, to be taken with real seriousness.—Ex.

CABBAGE JUICE

Sauerkraut, which in the midst of our war zeal was rather absurdly called "Liberty cabbage," is coming into its own at last. That once lowly edible, scorned by delicate palates as an uncouth dish and banished for its taste and smell, is welcomed now in palaces for its rare virtues.

"Kraut packers," says a dispatch from the great cabbage-raising district of New York State, "are planning to profit from the sale of kraut brine, which has been discovered to be good for stomach troubles."

Sauerkraut itself, entire, is recommended by dieticians as a wholesome, nourishing food. Patients with weak stomachs are advised by physicians to buy canned kraut, drain off the frine—once despised even in kraut-loving homes—and drink it. And now we come to the grand climax of sauerkraut juice bottled and sold as a precious liquor!

One of the most remarkable discoveries of science is that a lot of coarse foods which people are lowbrow enough to like are good for them. Brown bread is another example.—Ex.

Three Millions Saving Money

Six years ago 1,771,574 persons had savings accounts in California banks. On June 30, 1927, the number had increased to 3,069,464, and the aggregate deposits totaled $1,698,729,000—an average of $553. Official figures further show that 620 persons out of every thousand are now saving money, whereas in 1921 only 469 out of every thousand were saving.

The statistics prove that a very large number of persons have not found it difficult to save. On the contrary, it is easy to accumulate funds. A one-dollar bill, for example, will open a savaings account in any office or branch of the American Trust Company, and the deposits will earn four per cent interest, compounded semf-annually.

Town Tales Tersely Told

Howard Risser is enjoying a vacation trip to Reno, Nev.

Lucius Buck and William Robinson were home from U. C. the past week-end.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dale, Monday, October 24, at O'Connor Hospital, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Luttle returned the first of the week from their auto trip to Idaho and northern California.

Mrs. S. R. Tuttle closed her cafeteria temporarily this week and joined Mr. Tuttle at their ranch at Gilroy.

Mrs. Worthin Grattan returned Friday evening from a six weeks' visit at her home in Iowa and an auto trip from there to Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Burns (nee Aileen Smith) are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at O'Connor Hospital Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miracle returned from their summer home at Tahoe Monday as the winter began to creep over the top of the Sierra.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Field arrived home Wednesday driven out of Yosemite by a big storm. Their trip took them as far as Reno and Minden covering about 1000 miles

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Miller returned Saturday from their vacation trip which took them into British Columbia and to points of interest in Washington and Oregon. They traveled over 3600 miles on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Berry have been enjoying their vacation piece-meal, going to San Francisco and bay points for a series of week-ends. They visited the metropolis and saw the high buildings the past week-end.

The young people of the Congregational Church have arranged a Halloween party to be held in the church parlors this evening, to which a general invitation is extended. Admission will be by some article to be sold at the young peoples' booth at the Guild Bazaar, November 18.

The Southern Pacific has been spending a deal of money on the road bed of the interburban electric lines in this county and a marked degree of business increase should result. At Campbell the greatest improvement was that of raising the track on Railroad avenue several inches thereby eliminating the mud and water holes of that street.

SCOUT TROUPS DAILY GROWING

The progress of the newly organized scout work under the leadership of Rev. J. H. Bennett is rapid.

The Kiwanis Club and members have subscribed to the amount of $90 for apparatus.

The "Den" under the church is being refloored through the generosity of Mr. J. A. Swanson, Mr. H. W. Morton and Oluf Strom, and the large yard is now looking 50 per cent nearer useful service

During the rainy months it is planed to make use of the Ford Garage in which more space will be available for indoor work, especially for the use of the newly acquired gmynasium apparatus.

Through the kindness and generousity of Fred V. Clancy the garage room on South Central avenue, which was used by him while operating the Ford Sales Room here, will be available for the gymnasium apparatus to be used by local Scout Troops.

No vacancies are open in the Cub Scouts for a short while, and any boys over 12 years desiring to join the Scouts should do so at once.

The Sea Scouts is open for Young men over 16 years. Mr. Worthin Grattan is the skipper.

Freeman Duncan is building up a very lucrative business in this section as a tree surgeon and reports a very busy season. His partner, Mr. Fisher of San Leandro, has had considerable experience in this branch of husbandry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wiesendanger will drive to Santa Barbara today to spend the week-end with their daughter, Alice, who teaches there. The following week they will go on to Hollywood to be present at the California-Nevada District Convention of Kiwanis.

The R. E. Stubbe family recently removed here from Burlingame and are living on the ranch on Winchester road vacated by the Ladarre family. Mr. Stubbe is a brother of J. H. Stubbe a former well known resident of Campbell now living in Runnymeade.

Following a bounteous harvest supper at which nearly a hundred people gathered last Friday at the Methodist Church a very delightful program was enjoyed, including a variety of musical numbers and readings. Rev. Robins outlined several plans of work for the year.

HIGH SCHOOL P.T.A. PLANS FOR YEAR

On Tuesday afternoon the Parent-Teacher's Association of Campbell Union High School held its opening meeting with an enthusiastic attendance of parents and teachers. First came a fine musical program by the orchestra under Mr. Thielke's leadership. Among the interesting topics which came in for their full share of discussion were the following:

The vital need of full support for the musical projects being carried on this year, the band, the orchestra and the evening choral society. Mr. Cramer told how many of the pupils are paying for their own musical instruments on the installment plan and how much music really means in the welfare of the high school.

Miss Jenkins spokein behalf of the Campfire groups and their need of a headquarters of their own. Miss Howes urged the mothers to show the greatest possible interest in all social and athletic projects fostered by the school and thanked them for their hearty cooperation in making the Mother and Daughter such a success last year.

Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Bollinger and Mrs. Merrill were called on for reports from the district federation meeting, which they had attended. Mrs. Merrill, retiring president, stressed the value of close cooperation between our organization and the district and State federation of which we are an integral part. The Foothill federation, with which we are in the close touch, is holding a joint meeting and celebration sometime in November, the date to be announced later. This year's motto is "Know Thy Child."

Mrs. Hedegard, the new president, appointed the following members to the chairmanship of the various committees:

Finance ..... Mrs. Cramer
P.-T. A. Emblem & Magazine .... Mrs. Maxon
Education ..... Mrs. Shank
Hospitality & Home .... Mrs. Rice
Publicity ..... Mrs. Dart
Juvenile Legislation .... Mrs. Best
Membership ..... Mrs. Bollinger
Citizenship ..... Mrs. Keesling

Other committees will be organized later for a full year of profitable work is being planned for by the new executive. It is probable that a professional study committee will give 20 minute book reviews of some of the books in recent psychology, dealing with "The Child, His Nature and His Needs." On November 15, in the high school assembly, the first evening meeting of this year's series will be given. Reserve the date.

Cong'l Church

Tom Tucker, Stunt Performer, Here

Tommy Tucker and Company will apppear in person at the Campbell Theater Sunday and Monday, October 30-31, in a three act novelty play showing how stunts are performed and movies are made in Hollywood.

Tommy Tucker is the only dare-devil stunt performer who has made personal appearances throughout the country.

This dare-devil stunt artist has spent four years of his life in Hollywood doubling for the famous movie stars and he assures you of a new thrill if you will come to the Campbell Theater Sunday and Monday.

Sympathy is like blond hair; a lot of it isn't the real thing.

Your wife as well as your sins, will find you out.

MRS. ELLA MACE PASSES SUDDENLY

The community received a decided shock Wednesday morning when word was passed about that Mrs. Ella Mace had passed away during the night. She had been under the doctor's care for some time for high blood pressure but no immediate danger was looked for.

The funeral service will be held from Ward funeral parlors this morning at 10 a. m. and interment at Hollister.

Miss Marie Mace, the surviving daughter, is extended the deep sympathy of this community where she has lived for some years.

Mrs. Mace was a native of Iowa but has been making her home in Campbell for several years and had many friends to mourn her passing. Miss Mace was for some time one of the valued teachers in the local schools but recently was placed on the San Jose faculty.

Union Notes

The regular monthly meeting of We and Our Neighbors Club was held at the clubhouse Saturday afternoon, October 15. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames E. B. Scott, Paul Arnerich and William Cleland. The clubhouse was attractively decorated with ferns, zinnias and French marigolds, making a very pretty background for this delightful gathering. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Arch L. Cilker, president of the club. A number of important issues were presented. The report of the board of directors for important improvements made about the past quarter showed the various the clubhouse, and of plans to raise money during the coming year. One of the events looked forward to each year is the annual November evening meeting when the club members and their families gather for a social time. This year the party will be given on Friday, evening, November 18, at the clubhouse, and will be a harvest supper to be served at 6:30 p. m. The committee in charge of the supper are Mesdames William A. Riggs, Leslie Dow, Walter Magneson and James Stanfield. Anyone desiring further information can telephone to Mrs. Riggs at Los Gatos. Mrs. Hazel Cilker will have charge of the program, will follow the supper. The hostesses for the December meeting will be Mesdames Leslie Dow, Ann Jane Cilker and Walter Magneson. The board of directors will meet at the clubhouse Wednesday, November 16, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Frederick Battee read a monologue recently recited over KPO by Hugh Barrett Dobbs. This wonderful reading, "Father and Son," taken from "An Old Froggy's Ingleook." Since this was read by Mr. Dobbs over 2000 people have asked for copies. It is indeed splendid, and worth a moment of any one's time to read. A social hour was enjoyed during which time the hostesses served lovely refreshments, in keeping with Halloween. The table decorations were very pretty, lighted candles casting their soft glow around the table.

Movement of other vegetables than lettuce is under way at Santa Maria with regular shipments of peas and tomatoes going out to eastern markets. It is estimated that the local acreage in these two vegetables will yield more profits than ever before to valley growers. The increased acreage planted in both, 1250 acres in tomatoes and 500 in peas, is expected to make the two crops as popular as lettuce and cauliflower in Santa Maria Valley Last year, around a million pounds of peas were sent by express from Gualalupe alone.

It is estimated that over fifty million dollars annually is sent out of the State to buy hogs and pork products for California consumption. If it is profitable to the producers back east to market their hogs in this State after paying heavy costs of transportation, it would seem that the opportunity for western producers is being over looked, especially when it is a fact that this market pays from $1.50 to $2.00 more per hundredweight for hogs than is paid over the Missouri River markets.

BIG BASIN DISTRICT ATTRACTS TOURIST

The California Redwood Park, otherwise known as the Big Basin, a basin-shaped tract of approximately 3800 acres, mainly of virgin redwood, is a very popular touring objective of the year, according to the National Automobile Club.

There are two main routes by which to reach this Park—one via Saratoga and over the summit, and the other via the Los Gatos-Santa Cruz highway to the Scott Valley School, thence to Felton and the Big Basin.

Going via Saratgoa, pavement will be encountered to this point, thence excellent gravel road to Congress Springs and a couple of miles beyond. From this point to the Santa Cruz county line, near the summit, is a rough gravel road. The road is narrow in places, winding and steep, but can be negotiated without difficulty by an experienced driver. From the county line down into the park is an exceptionally good graded dirt road, wide enough at all places for two cars to pass.

Overnight accommodations are still available at the park and will be as long as the weather permits, which will probably be about the first of November. Camping conditions in the park are ideal at this time, and no charges are made.

In taking the second outlined route, pavemnt will be encountered to the Scott Valley School. At this point turn right over one and one-half miles of pavement, just completed this summer, thence fair graded dirt road to Felton, at which point pavement is encountered and continues to Boulder Creek. From Boulder Creek into the park is a gravel orad. This is an exceptionally good road. having been oiled during the latter part of the season, the road is wide; grades easy; turns well banked—all affording excellent traveling conditions.

PARIS PUTS BAN ON "EATON CHOP"

PARIS, Oct. 22.—(Special Cable Dispatch.)—"The Eton chop is dead—just as dead as long hair."

So decreed this week the president of the Parisian hairdressers on the occasion of the hairdressing exhibition just closed, which, with the automobile salon, divided the honor of attracting the eager attention of fashionable people from all over Europe.

"Of course, there always will be types of beautiful women able to afford to ignore current fashions and to impose their own styles," he continued.

"Thus, Ganna Walska commands attention with her long curls reaching her shoulders as practically the only woman in Paris who can display to advantage the Empress Eugeneie style. Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt and her sister, Lady Furness, are wonderfully distinguished with their long skirts; yet they cannot be called fashionable."

Claimed to be the highest premium paid this year in the San Joaquin Valley, Tagus Ranch of Tulare, announced last week the sale of 200 bales of cotton to the Anderson-Clayton Company of Houston, Texas, at a premium of 314 points. Market price at time of sale was 2,065, making a total of 23.79 cents per pound.

California's production of tame hay this year was slightly greater than in 1926, due largely to an ample supply of water for irrigation and generally favorable conditions during the Summer months. So states a summary of the California Crop Reporting Service, issued recently. The total production was 5,037,000 tons, which compares with a 1926 yield of 4,984,000 tons. Of the total production, 4,120,000 tons was in alfalfa—a gain of 200,000 tons over last year. Grain hay totaled 746,000 tons, against 862,000 in 1926, and other miscellaneous tame hay, 171,000 tons, against the previous year's yield of 198,000 tons.

Agricultural activities each year bring more than $36,500,000 into the coffers of Orange county farmers, according to a report just issued by the Orange County Farm Bureau. Citrus, walnuts, peppers and beans valued at $33,510,000 are produced annually in this county, while livestock brings an additional $3,000,000 into the farmer's pockets. The Farm Bureau report shows that 82 per cent of Orange county farms are operated by owners, 11 per cent by tenants and 7 per cent by managers.

Weigh some people and they will be found wanting in everything except weight.

Turning Catover Lands Into Redwood Forests

Redwood trees, imported from California and planted in the Grays Harbor district of western Washington 14 years ago by one of the large logging concerns of the Pacific Northwest, have proved a pronounced success, according to company officials. As a result, plans are under way to transform large areas of cutover lands in the Grays Harbor region into redwood forests. In the 14 years a redwood tree has attained a diameter of 18 inches, showing more rapid growth than that of any other variety of tree planted at the same time. The tree also shows every indication of being high-grade lumber stock. Other varieties planted included spruce, fir, pine and red and white oak. Encouraged by these results, the company is undertaking the growing of the redwood trees from seed, and in addition has planted more than 1,000 acres with spruce, fir and pine seed. Success in these seeding operations will lead to reforestation on a large scale, lumber officials say.

Realization of Day of Week Came Late

There was a very absent-minded young fellow who belonged to the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. He had a fine mathematical mind but was not so alert upon other facts and fancies of the workaday world.

The large swimming tank in the Y was always kept filled with water excepting on Saturday morning, at which time it received its weekly scouring. One Saturday morning this absent-minded man strolled over to the gymnasium to take a swim. He stepped on the springboard and without even glancing at the tank, he uncorked a perfect swan dive.

Two days later when he first regained consciousness at the hospital, he drawled: "I never could keep hold of the days of the week—but as I rapidly approached the concrete bottom of the tank, I suddenly realized I was face to face with Saturday."

Not Good Fuel

Sir Gilbert Parker records that when he mentioned to his publisher the remark of Lord Rosebery to the effect that most of the books on the average library shelves should be burned, the publisher replied:

"It is the authors who should be burned."

That was a nasty one for the novelist who, however, rose to the occasion by retorting:

"Judging by your share of the profits, your authors are too green to burn."

Seemed Like Ghostly Visit

An inflated automobile tire became unfastened from an automobile driven by W. Frisbie at Middletown, Ohio. The tire bounded through a window at the home of Carly Anders, went through another window on the opposite side of the house, shattering the glass, and disappeared. Members of the family, who were asleep, could not imagine what had happened until the owner of the tire called to pay for the damage.

Tiresome

"I met up with old Timrod Totten a spell ago," says Rip Ramsey. "Say!—that feller ain't got no sense; none a-tall!"

"Why so?" asked Major Munks.

"B'cuz he was born so, I reckon. Why, he put in the whole deternal time telling his symptoms, when—dod-dog him!—I wanted to tell mine! I fin'ly had to go on and leave him still a-clacking."—Kansas City Star.

Not Ready for Use

Patty, age four, was visiting her grandmother and had been making the rounds of the poultry houses. She was much interested in the appearance of each brood. On their last trip, grandmother lifted the setting hen off one of the nests and disclosed a newly hatched chick, not yet dry. "Oh, that one's not done yet," said Patty.

What Nuciform Eden Is

Upon leaving Hollywood, Louis Sherwin, remarked: "I am glad to say farewell to a city where the inhabitants know only one word of two syllables, 'fil-lum'." Louis speaks of Hollywood as "that paradise of the nuciform brain." A dictionary which weighs ten pounds says that "nuciform" means "shaped like a nut."—Capper's Weekly.
